Hi Paulo

Thanks for taking the time to talk to us here in Yahoo. We really enjoyed the chat.

Part of our screening process is an off-site technical practical test to be completed in your own time.

Please complete the following technical challenge in CoderPad as best you can and let us know when you are complete.

Instructions are included on the test and although it's not timed, we would like you to get back to us within 3 days if possible.

Please attempt all questions. Leave notes in comments where you feel an explanation is required.

The questions are quite open-ended so feel free to use this as an opportunity to show us your technical ability and flair!

You do not need to submit your answer in CoderPad - your code is automatically saved as you type. Please email me back once completed.
